

Your Invitation to Group Sales

You're a group organizer. You spent the last three days making calls and waiting for emails to confirm who's going to the event. You hope there's still enough time to distribute the tickets. If only you had an easier way to manage the process.

Meet Group Ticket Window[™] software — the online group ticket manager that enables organizers and their members to invite, promote and purchase your event tickets with ease — encouraging groups to buy more and providing the venue unprecedented access to every group member for future ticket sales.

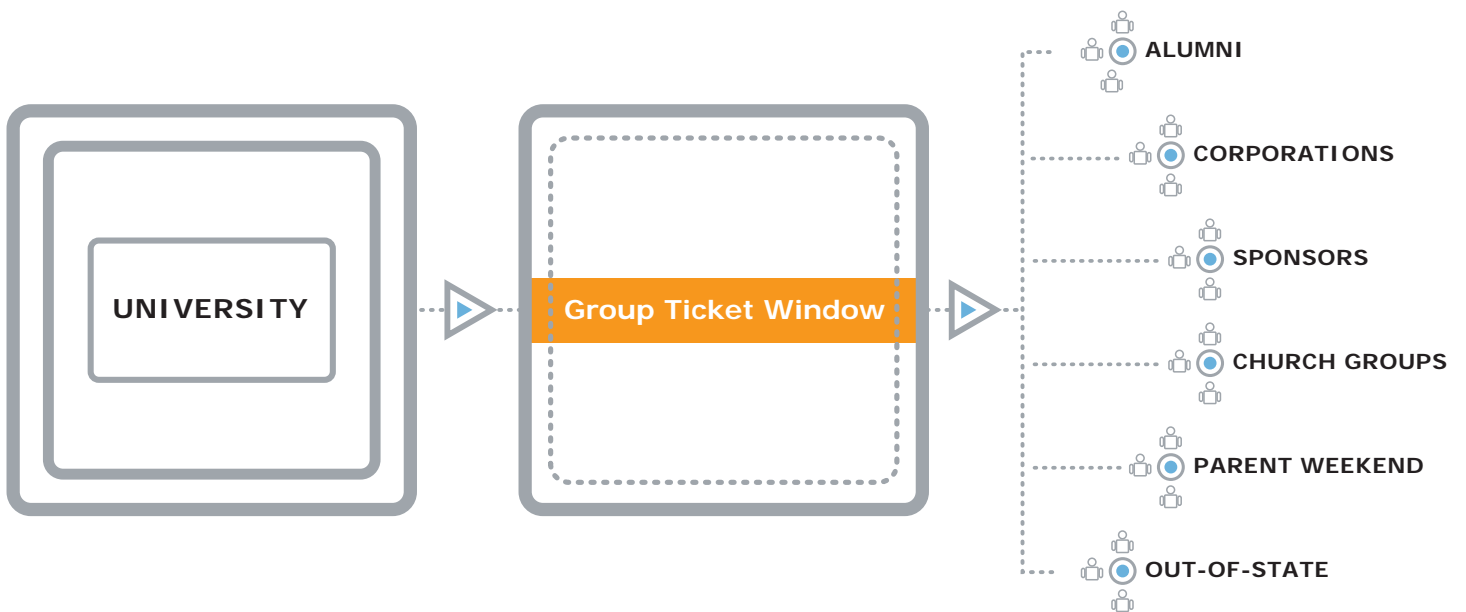

Group Ticket Window: Overview

Your online group ticket manager that encourages organizations and their members to easily purchase and participate in group events.

Transform Every Group Member Into a Customer

With group sales, the venue typically has a relationship with the group's leader while the members remain a mystery. Group Ticket Window captures each member's data so you can build relationships with everyone.

How Group Ticket Window Works

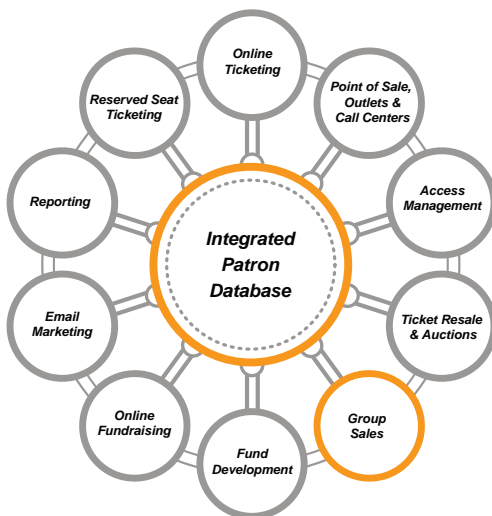

Make it Easier to Promote Events and Drive Sales

Say you're targeting an organization that has 100 individuals. Normally, your ticket manager works with the group leader to plan and promote an event. Group Ticket Window streamlines the process by providing a link to the event information and a method for each member to effortlessly purchase tickets. By making it easier to buy individual group tickets, members are more likely to participate and your venue captures new customers.

Streamline Group Sales for You and Your Customers

By enabling your customers to manage and purchase group events with point-and-click simplicity, you reduce the burden on your leaders and sales team.

Our straightforward process to manage group events will encourage leaders to plan more events and your sales team to acquire new business.

Ticketmaster, Irvine
5171 California Ave
Suite 200
Irvine, CA 92617

©2008 Ticketmaster, Irvine

ticketmaster[®]